You will visit decades-old food institutions alongside new businesses that are revitalizing the city's food scene. And you will eat your way through the Mile End and Plateau neighbourhoods. Please note that this tour visits non-kosher establishments and does not include gluten-free or vegan options.

The tour typically lasts about 2 ½ hours and covers about 1 ½ miles of walking. Along the way, you will get to sample various Jewish foods, such as bagels with cream cheese and smoked meat sandwiches and learn about the history and culture behind each dish.

The tour is led by a knowledgeable guide who will share interesting stories and insights about the neighborhood's history and Jewish heritage. Visitors will also get to see some of the local landmarks, including famous Jewish bakeries and synagogues.

Overall, the Beyond the Bagel Tour Montreal is a fun and informative way to experience the unique culinary traditions of the Mile End neighborhood and learn about Montreal's rich Jewish history.
