DM-EXR-KLAHOOSE

British Columbia's premier Indigenous destination resort, Klahoose offers an intimate coastal experience, that will leave you transformed by the beauty of the Klahoose territory, their Nation's unique culture, and the region's exceptional wildlife.

Situated in the heart of Desolation Sound, Klahoose Wilderness Resort is located on Homfray Channel between the Coast Mountain peaks of British Columbia's Sunshine Coast and the Northern Islands of the Salish Sea. All visitors meet at the lodge's patio, where they are greeted in the customary Klahoose manner. Stress immediately vanishes as osprey call across the Sound, the vision of an orca's particular dorsal fin breaks the water's surface, and the sea breeze drifts through the encompassing conifer woodland.

About Desolation Sound and Toba Inlet

Desolation Sound name was given by Captain George Vancouver, but the Coast Salish individuals have lived here since ancient times. Villages sites through the sound have been occasional homes for hundreds and even thoughts of First Nation individuals. Today Desolation Sound is famous for its characteristic excellence, rich wildlife is woven into the fabric of the individuals that have lived here for thousands of years before the European contact. Desolation Sound Marine Provincial Park has been known by boater as probably the calmest and hottest waters on the Pacific Coast.

Since time before memory, the Toba Inlet has been the home of the Klahoose individuals. This is one of the main inlets on the BC coast. Toba Inlet is generally short when compared with other major coastal inlets with a normal width of 2.5 km and length just around 35 km. At the mouth of the bays is the Toba River and Klite River. The bay is flanked by tower iceberg peaks with waterfalls and is home to numerous grizzly bears.

- Can Families with Children Visit? - Yes! Families with children are welcome at the Resort anytime between May and October. For the included Grizzly Bear Viewing Tours (late August to October), the minimum age to participate is 10 years old, as we spend 2-3 quietly hours watching the bears from our viewing platforms. Parents and guardians are required to always supervise children. We do have lifeguards or any babysitting service. Children 2 and under are free.
- Is Grizzly Bear Viewing by Boat or Viewing Platform? - Our Grizzly Bear Viewing Tours are from our private fixed viewing platforms in Toba Inlet. The platforms are set in locations along the Klite River, a remote wilderness river in Toba Inlet, and are situated above the ground, designed to provide an optimal viewing vantage point, while maintaining a safe distance from the bears. Tours are fully guided by our Indigenous Klahoose bear viewing guides and include a short land transfer from our dock to the forest and river viewing areas by minibus, often parking right beside the viewing platforms making the experience accessible. A boat will transfer you from the Resort to our dock in Toba Inlet. This scenic boat ride passes spectacular scenery and several major waterfalls. On our grizzly bear tours, we travel by covered heated boat to our dock, then a minibus which parks next to or viewing platforms which have stairs to enter. Sometimes a short gravel pathway is used to access the platforms.
- Tell Me About Mobility? - Good mobility is recommend for walking up and down the marina dock and ramps, in Lund Harbour, and embarking and disembarking vessels plus we have stairs at the main entrance to the resort and to all rooms and cabins. However, all our tours and transfers are dock to dock and luggage handling is included. We take our time during tours, and we do not exit vessels onto rocky shorelines or beaches and guided boat tours or bear tours do not including any hiking on trails.
